Virtual Mentorship Program through Iowa State University’s Institutional Membership with the National Center for Faculty Development & Diversity

This yearlong program is designed to increase your writing productivity and work-life balance. By activating your individual sub-membership, you can take advantage of these resources:

MONDAY MOTIVATOR: a weekly e-mail message that provides an electronic dose of positive energy, good vibrations, and a weekly productivity tip.

MONTHLY WORKSHOPS: Every month you can access a core curriculum workshop AND a guest-expert workshop. You can attend the workshops live or listen to the recording at your leisure.

THE BUDDY SYSTEM: During each of our monthly core curriculum workshops, we match up accountability buddies. This is designed to support your implementation of whatever strategy we have just taught in the workshop, provide you with a peer-mentor, and to expand your network.

DISCUSSION FORUM: The NCFDD discussion forums are a private place where members connect, share information, peer-mentor, problem-solve, and celebrate each others’ successes.

MULTI WEEK COURSES: a series of multi-week courses taught by national experts that go into depth about getting external funding, navigating the job market, teaching effectively and efficiently, and becoming a Department Chair.
